

Gokul -B1

Set-8

1. Write a program that prompts user for a positive integer. The program shall read the input as int; compute and print the sum of all its digits. For examples,
2. A class called Employee, which models an employee with an ID, name and salary. The method raise Salary(percent) increases the salary by the given percentage. The method display () print employee details.
3. Write a java application program to demonstrate Multithreading using Lambda Expression.
4. Write java SWING program to insert a record.
5. Write a program to add, retrieve & remove element from Array List